

Notes from the Shallow End

Andy Flannigan

MuddyPearl

'Beautiful, beguiling, provocative stories from one of my favourite people'

Pete Greig, 24-7 Prayer

The stories behind, beyond and between the songs on the award-winning album 'Drowning in the Shallow'. Heart-breaking photography and luxurious artwork, combine to steer your head, heart and life away from a comfortable shallowness to the deeper adventure.

'Raw wrestling and prophetic insight as Andy guides us into uneasy waters and God's everlasting arms'

Rachel Gardner, Romance Academy

Notes from the Shallow End brings together the multiple strands of Andy's gifting and ministry as a prophet, minstrel and storyteller. Having fallen in love with the songs and been deeply challenged by the book, I have found it very inspiring to access them in what is literally a new art form.'

Phil Stokes – Leader, The Well Community Church and Transform Southwark

Author

Andy is a Northern Irish singer-songwriter who spends much of his time with his wife Jenny and son Jesse working out how to be downwardly mobile in the centre of London, treasuring some great friends and playing a lot of cricket.

He has led worship at every kind of gathering, including New Wine, Soul Survivor, Greenbelt and Spring Harvest. His albums include the award-winning Drowning in the Shallow, Advertising the Invisible, and Son. His books, Distinctive Worship and God 360, are as creative as his music and have revitalized the devotional lives of thousands.

Andy's campaigning songs led him to parliament where he now directs Christians in Politics and Christians on the Left, inspiring and supporting Christians to participate in rather than commentate on politics.
