“A timely reminder that transformative opportunities and gospel-inspired adventure awaits us all in the places we seldom look – our places of work.”

Rev Dr Kate Coleman, Next Leadership

The average person spends around 90,000 hours at work over their lifetime. In the busyness and daily routine of working life, amidst responding to emails, meeting deadlines, doing the coffee run and planning meetings, it can be hard to remember that God is there.

The only book you will ever need on work and faith, Thank God It's Monday helps you to really flourish in your career or calling, whatever that may be. Whether we are full-time staff members, self-employed freelancers or startup entrepreneurs, whether we work in an office, hotdesk or from home, whatever our work looks like, it's important and valuable.

Full of stories that are both inspiring and down-to-earth, Thank God It's Monday empowers us to do good work, to be true to who we are and to show and share Jesus in the challenges and opportunities of our daily work. Exploring what God has to say about work, Greene challenges us to us to see our jobs, our co-workers, our bosses and our workplaces in a truly radical way – and to see that God is at work, at work.

“Intelligent, invigorating, inspirational and ultimately, indispensable.”

J. John
